2020 Hazardous Waste Collections for Non-resident or "visitor status" Household Hazardous Waste (HHW) Collection Participation

Cape Cod towns invite you to participate in this year's household hazardous waste (HHW) collections whether you are a resident of the host town or not. When you need to dispose of hazardous products at a host town location that you are not a resident of, you must pay a disposal fee. Table 1.1 lists 2020 collection dates, times, locations, and contact numbers. Information about the HHW collections is also available on www.loveyourlocalwater.org or f/loveyourlocalwater.

You may participate in HHW collections in your town or your town's host town for no cost, OR attend other town's HHW collection for a cost. If you would like to participate as a 'visitor' or 'non-resident' email this form to Kalliope at least one week in advance of the collection date to notify on the type and quantity of materials you plan to bring. As a non-resident, you will not be allowed to participate without filling out this form, without receiving authorization from Kalliope, and paying for your waste at point of disposal.

What is a resident? Do you live in a Cape Cod town for ANY part of the year? If you answer 'yes,' then we consider you a resident of that town. Thus, you may participate in that town's HHW. If that town is part of a collaborative HHW, then you may also participate in the town HHW events that collaborate. Example: Upper Cape residents have four hazardous waste collections: Sandwich, Falmouth, Mashpee, and/or Bourne; Brewster, Chatham, and Harwich residents may go to all six of the regional events. See table 1.1.
