On 6-11-2019 Inspector K friel went to the Stop and Shop #22, 55 long pond drive So. Yarmouth MA and spoke to front end manager on duty and explained the reason for my visit. She informed me that no one had complained to the store about no tares being taken at the self checkouts. She told me that all tare are loaded on the check out registers that have been programed to automatically tare an item when its PLU is entered. Several sample transactions were conducted. A trial purchase of snap peas was done and the transactions recorded a 0.01 lb tare was deducted. A trial purchase of a salad bar was done and a tare of 0.05 lb was taken for the plastic container. A trial purchase of apples were done and a 0.02 lb tare was taken for the bag. All items tare are programed into the self checkout registers. The weight on the indicator was compared to the weight on the transaction record, the difference in the indicated weight is the tare being taken. I contacted Marleen Cahoon who was out at the time and left the results of the investigation with the staff on duty. I left my contact information for m Cahoon if she wanted to follow up more. No Additional actions or findings.

Assigned Inspector R. Cohen to investigate complaint. Checked records from full annual inspection on 4-23-19 at Mobil Alltown that was performed by K. Friel. Veeder Roots report shows 0 inches and 0 gallons water in each of the fuel tanks on 4-23-19. I called the station and spoke to the assistant manager who looked at the current veeder root report from 4-26-19 and said it showed 0 inches and 0 gallons of water in each tank. She would forward a copy of this to me by text message. She verified she was aware of the complaint and said the customer only put $7.00 of gas in the vehicle (about 2.5 gallons) she would investigate the video monitors and receipts to determine the Pump number and time and re-print the actual sales receipt if necessary. I asked if there were any other complaints similar in nature to this in the last few days, she replied No. Not in the last 30 days. I then called the customer and spoke to Zachary S. about the issue. He confirmed he purchased $7.00 at Pump #8 on 4-25-19 he said that should've been about the amount he used to go back and forth to work. He said he siphoned all of the fuel out of his tank (about 6 Gallons) and put part of it in a 32 oz. Gatorade container, after a while he said it was half gasoline and half a cloudy white milky substance. I explained he most likely had water , ethanol, and or phase separation to that sample. He told me the vehicle was a 2002 Chevrolet Impala and had many different mechanical issues. Like no catalytic converter, faulty EGR valve, Runs rich ect. He said he usually lets the tank run very low before filling. I explained he could be picking up old bad contaminants from the bottom of his tank by doing this. Always better to fill before tanks run lower than 1/4-1/2 full. I offered the contact information for Inchcape in Chelsea , which tests fuel in Chelsea, Ma. he declined to take information saying he probably wouldn't pursue it further , since he realized it could be a problem from his end. He still seemed suspect of the fuel from Alltown Mobil and may purchase elsewhere in the future. He was told of the lack of other corresponding complaints and understood it may be from his vehicles existing fuel supply. He gave me the contact information to e-mail him this report.

R.Cohen went to the station and checked the pump in question on the afternoon of the 31st. He physically tested the pump and it started at zero each time and physically dispensed gas into the prover each time the handle on the nozzle was pressed. It also dispensed the accurate amount for a 5 gallon test. Even in the beginning fuel was visibly dispensing as required. I informed Admin Staff Golda Hadfield and she contacted the complainant to give her the results. Golda spoke to Terry and explained these are also brand new pumps are designed to be much quieter than the old one's there and were tested by the Yarmouth inspector about a month before as well. I don't believe there were any other issues.
